C., September 19.—Governor of New Mexico, has notified the President of continued disturbances and lawlessness in Lincoln County, in that territory, and requested the aid of the army of the United States to preserve the peace. The President has thereupon issued his proclamation commanding all riotous bands to disperse within five days.

A Washington special of the 8th says that the Indian outbreak has been the subject of much discussion in recent Cabinet meetings. Army officers contend that the Cheyennes left the agency because they were starving, and that the Sioux are intending to join them in a raid upon the Black Hills. Indian authorities, on the other hand, claim that the Cheyennes were well fed, and had no reason to revolt; that the Sioux are going to adopt their new agencies without any trouble, and that the Cheyennes are being made accordingly to concentrate all available troops, the number of which will be about 2,500.

The United States Internal Revenue Collector at Little Rock, Ark., yesterday applied to the Department at Washington for United States troops to assist him in enforcing the revenue laws. After consultation between the President, Secretary of the Treasury and Attorney-General, it was decided that the civil authorities must exhaust all their resources before the military can be called upon, and such was the answer given to Col. Wheeler.

Secretary Schurz has been summoned and will appear as a witness in the Kansas Pacific land case to be tried at the present term of the United States Court at Leavenworth.

Detroit school-children of 13 and 14 are required to learn eight solid pages of history, in addition to half a dozen other lessons, and yet, says the Free Press, some folks can't see what keeps the doctors so busy.

FASHION NOTES.

Fish-scale brocade and Persian designs are the popular silks.
New styles in silk hose are black, with gold or silver embroidery.

Vests, detached and simulated, are made of bright tinted materials.
Furs show no change in shape. The seal-skin saques will be as popular as ever.

Round hats are adorned with fancy wings and breasts, instead of long plumes.
The latest novelty brooch for ladies is in the form of a bouquet-holder of oxidized silver or gilt.

New styles in gloves will be worn this fall. Hazel, purple and steel gray are the most popular shades.
New designs in chateaux pockets are of velvet, handsomely embroidered in colors and mounted with gold.

Young girls now have their hair to form two low-curved loops, spread out broadly low down instead of doubled like a chateaux loop.
Among the large variety of slippers worn this season, there are the velvet slippers, which are the most desirable for the house.

Worsted milks to wear over kid gloves in cold weather are among the novelties. They are gaily covered and never come off the hand.
The Juvenile dress consists of a long black velvet robe cut en princess with a damask overdress, without sleeves, open down the entire front, and trimmed with fur.

Some of the richest dresses or wraps for autumn are made of bronze, currant gray cashmere, with a lengthwise plastron down the front, or the gayest Japanese silk.
Among the new shapes of ladies' felt hats are the Derby and the Oxford, both with stiff crowns and narrow rolled brims. Bands of plush or velvet, and the new Indian cashmere feathers, form the novel decorations.

There is so much fear of the Nile that in Omdurman the Nile, in passing through the town recently, had to be given out that he would go by a certain route, but instead of doing so galloped at full speed through other streets, surrounded by a crowd of onlookers, and the Nile, who cut with their whips at chance spectators who ventured to stand still and look.

It will be remembered that several months ago the Earl of Leitrim was murdered in Donegal, Ireland. One of the causes of the crime is said to have been his eviction of the widow Algeo and her sons from a farm. A few weeks ago the Algeos forcibly took possession of the farm, and the present Lord Leitrim determined to eject them. Accompanied by several bailiffs his agent broke in the door, when the Algeos made a desperate resistance, but were overpowered and carried off to jail.
